

Forbidden Tattoo Studio First Studio in North Carolina to Add Non-Laser Tattoo Removal

JACKSONVILLE, N.C., April 9, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Rejuvatek Medical (Sandy, Utah) welcomes Forbidden Tattoo Studio as the first trained and certified Tatt2Away® Center in North Carolina. Tatt2Away is a patented non-laser tattoo removal system that, unlike the gold standard laser, can remove all colors of ink with nominal pain and lower cost.

Twenty-three percent of Americans, or close to 70 million, have a tattoo and about 8 million of those wish they could remove or cover it up, according to a recent Pew Research report. Which is why anywhere from 15-50 percent of a tattoo studio's current revenue is derived from cover-ups, or covering an existing tattoo with a new one.

Ann and Andrew of Forbidden Tattoo and Piercing have brought together in one place for their body art customers the best in the business. They stated, "We wanted to utilize the tried and true methods of tattooing with the cutting edge technology of Tatt2Away, the next evolution of Tattoo Removal and modification."

Their team is also making available the DESCoverup process, an additional option to modifying tattoos of the past. By removing partially or altogether the undesired body art through the Tatt2Away treatments that cost less, are fewer in number and "erase" all colors of the tattoo in the skin.
