

Former Roostify exec joins Cloudvirga as chief customer success officer

IRVINE, Calif., Nov. 14, 2018 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Cloudvirga™, a leading provider of digital mortgage software, today announced the appointment of Jesse Decker to the role of chief customer success officer. Decker will lead the company's customer success division and work collaboratively with its product development and marketing teams to help leading mortgage lenders leverage the full potential of Cloudvirga's revolutionary point-of-sale (POS) products.

Send2Press® Newswire

Decker has more than two decades of experience overseeing enterprise technology transformations and customer success programs. Before joining Cloudvirga, she was vice president of client services at mortgage fintech Roostify, where she supported successful implementations at several banks and independent mortgage lenders. Previously, she served as a management consultant for Booz Allen Hamilton and other top-tier consulting firms, where she delivered advisory services to clients in financial services, telecommunications and other sectors.

“The cry for digital technology that meaningfully improves the customer experience and reduces the cost to produce a mortgage has never been louder,” said Decker. "I'm thrilled to bring my experience helping major lending institutions implement transformative technology that delights customers to Cloudvirga, and I look forward to helping lenders take control over their margins in a tight market."

"Cloudvirga's obsession with solving the mortgage cost problem has resonated deeply with top lenders, igniting our rapid growth," said Cloudvirga CEO Michael Schreck. "We are proud to expand our senior team with an experienced leader who knows the digital mortgage space as well as Jesse does."

Since its founding just two years ago, Cloudvirga has grown to serve nine of the top 40 mortgage lenders in the United States with a rapidly expanding suite of digital mortgage solutions that includes its award-winning Enterprise POS, recently-launched Mobile POS and a highly anticipated Broker POS in partnership with ARIVE.
