FSG Realty is a division of Fish Stewarding Group. Fish Stewarding Group (FSG) focuses on the other side of solutions by educating, developing and transitioning businesses through strategic guidance and process architecture.

The FSG Custom Prebuild Process stewards and expedites every touchpoint of exclusive home ownership for the most discerning and selective buyers. The Stillwater Group LLC and SWG Experience drive the building process with articulate management, intricate knowledge and meticulous execution of every custom home build. Effective project management is rooted in the foundation of every SWG experience.

“FSG Realty stewards the process, while SWG takes that process from the concept to completion,” says Douglas Fish, Founder of Fish Stewarding Group. “By stewarding strategic solutions for the land itself with elegant home ownership options, every touch point in the buyer’s journey is addressed and then amplified by the creative and responsive custom home building techniques of Brandon Eich and The Stillwater Group.

“The I’ll Be home for Christmas Custom Home” follows the FSG Custom Prebuild Process which allows for exclusive, luxurious and elegant homes like this one to be finished and move in ready in ten months by The Stillwater Group. Most homes of this caliber and quality take eighteen to twenty-four months to complete.

FSG Realty is stewarding real estate experiences for buyers, sellers, investors and agents through education, communication and contributions. With this stewarding approach to custom prebuild experiences, it becomes more than buying a home. It shifts to an experience from the concept to the closing and every touch point in between.
