

HousingWire Magazine Designates Global DMS to its TECH100 List for the Second Year

LANSDALE, Pa., March 10, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Global DMS, a leading provider of web-based compliant valuation management software, announced that HousingWire magazine again named the company to its 2015 HW TECH100(TM) list. The list was officially introduced in 2014 and each year seeks to recognize the 100 most innovative technology firms in the U.S. housing economy.

More than 250 companies were evaluated by HousingWire editors for this year's program, which looks at technology innovation along six different categories: uniqueness of solution, growth, market influence, market potential, elegance of implementation, and "something else entirely" – a catch-all for disruption and other factors that drive innovation.

"This year we were struck by the level of innovation we saw, with 40 new additions to the HW TECH100," stated Jacob Gaffney, executive editor at HousingWire. "That speaks to how much change is taking place in the mortgage industry overall right now; we're seeing a lot of market disruption, and technology providers are clearly taking advantage of the opportunity that creates."

Global DMS' core platform is eTrac® Enterprise, which provides the mortgage industry with a consistent, cost effective, automated method to compliantly manage the entire collateral valuation process. eTrac is in use by thousands of users that spans lenders, appraisal management companies (AMCs), appraisers and other real estate entities. The company also integrates with leading loan origination system (LOS) platforms, data analytics firms and other third party service providers.

"Technology is changing both the mortgage and real estate industries in tangible and positive ways," remarked Paul Jackson, publisher and CEO of HousingWire. "The honorees that are part of the 2015 HW TECH100 are shaping this revolution, helping forge the future of an industry that drives the U.S. economic engine."
