“At IDS, our philosophy has always been to deliver innovative technology that is also rooted in reality to ensure it meets the current needs of our clients,” said IDS Vice President and General Manager Mark Mackey. “To be recognized among the mortgage industry’s best and brightest tech companies is truly an honor, and on behalf of IDS, I’d like to personally thank HousingWire for naming IDS as a Tech100 winner once again.”

The HW TECH100 recognizes the top 100 fintech companies that are driving housing technology innovation. HousingWire editors noted the April 2018 release of IDS’s Hybrid eClosing product as one of the reasons for including IDS on this year’s list. Hybrid eClosings allow for faster, more seamless mortgage real estate closing transactions. The service is also integrated with IDS’s Good Faith Analysis, which can help lenders avoid tolerance cures and meet the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's (CFPB) "Know Before You Owe" mandate to improve the borrower experience for consumers.

"This year's Tech100 list is stronger than ever! We leveraged a highly-qualified selection committee to review all nominations and guide the selection process. This extra layer of expertise and practical exposure to selected companies was influential in helping HousingWire recognize the 100 fintech companies that deserve the honor of being named the greatest players in the game," said HousingWire Editor-in-Chief Jacob Gaffney. "We couldn't be more proud of the innovators and entrepreneurs behind these organizations, and we hope you'll join us in celebrating their inclusion on the most prestigious list of its kind – the HW Tech100."

"These companies hold the most innovative and impactful technology in mortgage finance and continue to move markets forward with their new innovations," HousingWire Associate Editor Kelsey Ramírez said. "The future is bright for the mortgage industry, and it's because these companies continue to push the edge of what is possible."
