The IT industry is currently experiencing a significant consolidation; the larger firms are looking to capture market share through acquisition of smaller local and regional companies, opening up a massive opportunity for growth surrounding these mergers.

IT Partners' goal is to acquire numerous companies in the areas of Cyber Security, Managed Services, Cloud Services, VOIP, Security and Surveillance, Project Management, IT Infrastructure, Data Center Facilities, and Software/App Development to eliminate redundancies and create rapid growth.

Hauser joins the IT Partners team as an experienced executive with demonstrated success in driving profitable growth with a wide range of industrial electronic products in the international arena.

“Our entire Board is thrilled to have Josh as at the helm of our board,” stated Thomas Bedell, Acquisitions Manager of IT Partners. “We possess an incredible potential for growth, and along with our existing team, we are on an upward trajectory towards great success.”

In addition to Hauser, IT Partners’ Board of Directors include:

- Will Lassalle, a global IT and Information/Cyber Security executive, known for creating order in chaos;
- Jaclyn Cannon, who serves as an IT Operations and Maintenance Director for an aerospace test organization;
- Frank Quintana, BI consultant and data architect;
- George Cannon, experienced test pilot and business leader;
- Gore Bolton, an engineer turned investor and business engineer;
- Alberto Washington, Managing Director at Oberon Securities and Founder of Mercury Americas; and,
- Mark Coppa, a senior business leader with nearly three decades of experience.

“I am honored to be part of such a prestigious and proven team,” stated Hauser. “We have a lot of work to do over the coming months and years, but am profoundly confident in the abilities of our Board and broader IT Partners team to become the ultimate leaders in this space quickly.”

About IT Partners:

IT Partners is an M&A investment group based in in Tampa, Florida that purchases and nurtures tech companies and technologies throughout the United States. They look for hidden gems with owners who are ready to leave a lasting legacy for their clients, employees, and family by partnering with a group that has their best interests at its core; IT Partners’ unique approach is to create a partnership that gives the seller two opportunities to exit: now to free up capital and pursue other interests, and a second to continue to participate, even in retirement.
