Four John Cannon Homes' models were awarded Best Overall – The Caaren, The Miah, The Akarra IV and The Victoria models. These models also received awards in individual categories including “Best Floorplan,” “Best Architectural Design,” “Best Master Suite,” “Best Curb Appeal,” and “Best Kitchen.” The Talia was recognized with a Best Kitchen and Best Curb Appeal award.

In the Sub-Contractor categories, Coast to Coast Pools and ArtisTree Landscape Maintenance and Design won awards for John Cannon's Victoria model at The Concession and Coast to Coast Pools for The Talia model, totaling 27 awards received by the luxury custom home builder.

Coming off their impressive 25th consecutive win last week as “Best Residential Builder” (Sarasota Herald-Tribune Reader's Choice), the annual Parade of Homes awards, presented by the Manatee-Sarasota Building Industry Association, are considered by many industry leaders as the benchmark in design-build recognition.

“We feel that the Parade of Homes honors and acknowledges our team’s commitment to a seamless pairing of our interior finishes, selections and exceptional architectural design capabilities,” President and CEO John Cannon said. “Each award – whether it’s best kitchen, best floorplan or best master suite, for example, – tells us that our models reflect what our clients want in a residence, and, at the same time highlights recognition from our industry’s peers.”

Photographs, floor plans and virtual tours of these winning homes can be viewed by visiting johncannonhomes.com. 2017 Parade of Homes features 129 models and six developments throughout Manatee and Sarasota Counties, according to the Manatee-Sarasota Building Industry Association (MS-BIA) which organizes the annual event and ceremony. The association is affiliated with both the Florida Home Builders Association and the National Association of Home Builders.
