Brewer was recognized for her efforts to transform mortgage back-office operations through the development of integrated, automated solutions that eliminate repetitive, manual workflow, empowering lenders to maximize productivity and operational efficiency. LBA Ware's flagship product CompenSafe is the industry's first cloud-based software for automated loan originator (LO) commission and bonus compensation calculations, designed to help lenders manage multiple compensation plans while increasing efficiency, productivity and profitability.

"When I founded LBA Ware in 2008, my goal was to build technology that would solve the back-office operational challenges I was observing in the mortgage lending space, and calculating LO compensation was one of the first issues we decided to tackle," Brewer said. "Today, CompenSafe has calculated more than $1 billion in compensation, saving our clients untold amounts of time and money. I am beyond thrilled with what LBA Ware has accomplished, and to be recognized personally for my efforts makes our success that much more satisfying.”
