Project Manager Jesse Mount joins Joel and Jen Egelman, owners and founders, in operating Asbestos Abatement, Inc. and has helped to grow the company to become one of the top 5 asbestos removal contractors in Colorado. With AHERA certification and over 50 years combined experience, the company offers full services of lead remediation, mold removal, and asbestos abatement to Colorado resident and businesses alike.

Jesse Mount has been working in the abatement industry since 2004, and got his start renovating and removing asbestos and lead paint from the barracks of Fort Lewis military base, outside of Tacoma, Washington. He and his new wife relocated to Colorado to work in the growing field of remediation. He started as a worker, worked his way up to Supervisor, then to Project Manager, and now has become a co-owner in the rapidly growing business. He and his wife are happy to reside in Colorado, and have 2 children.
