In his new role, Maher will work with the JenCap management team in developing strategic plans, managing carrier and key broker relationships, and will work with divisional business leaders to achieve an effective cross sale protocol while maintaining a high service level throughout the organization.

Most recently Maher was President of JenCap's NIF Group, a managing general agency, program manager and wholesale insurance brokerage based in New York with offices in the Northeast and West. He has been with NIF for 30 years.

Dave Nielsen has joined JCH as Corporate Chief Financial Officer and brings the firm a unique mix of operating and financial experience, operational and financial integration knowledge, and significant private equity experience.

Nielsen has spent his entire 30+ year career in the Financial Services Industry, serving as a Chief Operating Officer in Wells Fargo's wholesale business, and more recently, as Chief Financial Officer of CommunityOne Bancorp. Dave graduated with a BS in Accounting from the University of Virginia and an MBA in Finance from Darden.

John F. Jennings, President and Chief Executive Officer of JCH commented, "I am excited to have both Mark and Dave on the senior JenCap team. They bring added strength, expertise and leadership capabilities that will be essential as we continue to transform and grow our company."
