Cutting edge robotics and mold inspection? Remaining on the edge of technological innovation within the indoor air quality and mold remediation industries is what Miami Mold Specialist well specializes in. As such, Miami Mold Specialist recently announced the reinvestment of capital into the latest and greatest high tech, mold inspection technology: Advanced robotics for inspecting crawlspaces, attics, large ventilation systems, and even ships and aircraft.

“Hard to reach areas, crawlspaces, attics, duct work, pipes, ventilation shafts – even large commercial ships to passenger jets – can now all be extensively examined for moisture, water damage, and mold in real time with 100-percent accuracy,” stated Marty Katz, the operations manager for Miami Mold Specialist. “Our Inspectorbots are capable of fitting into the tightest of places, allowing our technicians to thoroughly investigate problematic areas via a live video feed.”
