According to the screenshots of the concept design shared on Twitter by Tom Hounsel, one can see the apparent changes to current Microsoft 10 Start Menu.

Unlike the overall design of the present Windows 10 which is flat and squared, the new design is comparable to the earlier designs for Windows Vista and Windows 7. The animations improve the smooth and rapid transition between processes and the new blurred transparency effects for the Live Tiles add a fantastic aesthetic to the previous version. From the designs mockups, there's a new icon in the Start menu for Snapchat that some suggest that might be a placeholder. These amazing concept ideas raise a high expectation on the upcoming Neon UI for the Start Menu among Windows 10 users.

“After consideration of consumer feedback on the classic Start Menu, Microsoft finally added the Start menu to Windows 10 in the early updates and Project Neon will definitely give it a big boost. We look forward to the update in the near future,” said Bing Wang, Product Director at IObit. “However, third-party programs like IObit Start Menu 8 could be still popular due to more custom based services. IObit’s focus is to provide good services to meet our user’s needs and will continue our effort to improve Start Menu 8 as new changes are made to the operating systems.”

About Start Menu 8:

Start Menu 8 is a customized desktop utility for Windows users, specifically designed to bring back the familiar Classic Start Menu to Windows 8/8.1 & Windows 10. It offers a convenient and simple solution to switch freely between the latest Windows 10 start menu and Windows Classic Start Menu as well as providing multiple start menus for Windows 7/Vista/XP. With the improved searching engine, you can quickly and easily access your apps and files from the Start Menu. Start Menu 8 allows more customization with just a few clicks, which provides the options to skip Modern UI & Welcome on Windows 8.1 and customize your taskbar any way you like on Windows 10.
