

Mid America Mortgage Selects AccountChek from FormFree to Support eMortgage Initiative

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23, 2016 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – FormFree Holdings Corp. (FormFree), a provider of automated verification software, announced that Addison, Texas-based Mid America Mortgage has chosen AccountChek™ to conduct automated reviews of borrowers' asset accounts as part of its push towards executing a complete eMortgage.

Send2Press® Newswire

AccountChek is a web-based platform that enables users to order, analyze and certify a borrower's financial statement data electronically, eliminating the need for borrowers to collect, copy and submit paper documents. Automated asset verification streamlines the mortgage underwriting process for both borrowers and lenders, resulting in quicker decisions and higher borrower satisfaction.

"At Mid America, we believe the eMortgage is the future of the mortgage industry and have been pursuing an aggressive eMortgage strategy for several months," said Jeff Bode, owner and CEO at Mid America Mortgage. "Automating the asset verification portion of our underwriting process using AccountChek enables us to further digitize and streamline our operations without sacrificing loan quality."

“The mortgage industry is experiencing an unprecedented period of digital transformation,” said Brent Chandler, CEO and founder of FormFree. “As lenders begin to embrace the reality of a fully digital mortgage transaction, data verification becomes a critical function. AccountChek provides lenders with an added level of security that the data underlying a borrower’s ability to repay is valid and unaltered.”

About FormFree:

Leading lenders trust FormFree Holdings Corp. to deliver automated verification solutions that increase loan closing speed and draw more insight from a borrower’s financial information. FormFree was named one of American Banker magazine’s “Top 10 Tech Companies to Watch” in 2015.
