(Mid America) announced today that Mid America National Support and Training Director Jemma Pachiano has been recognized by HousingWire magazine in its fourth annual HW Insiders Awards™ list. Pachiano was recognized as an Insider for her work as a liaison between Mid America's executive team, operations team and branches, helping to maintain a constant, open flow of communication. Her work behind the scenes ensures everyone at Mid America has a voice and is heard in the right forum for the occasion. Her commitment to excellence reflects in her work and allows Mid America to remain connected at every level.

"Having spent 18 years in the mortgage industry, I know all too well the daily challenges and struggles our sales and ops teams face," said Pachiano. "Being reliable, knowledgeable and resourceful has always served me well, and I strive every day to apply these traits to my role in supporting Mid America's efforts to provide the best products and a superior lending experience to our clients and referral partners.”

As Mid America’s self-proclaimed “ideas woman,” Pachiano works to bring the branch employees’ perspective to the table on projects of all sorts, including those related to technology, onboarding new teams and implementing and improving new processes. She works with both the leadership teams and specific users at Mid America’s branches to solve any issues that may arise. Her expertise allows her to help with day-to-day concerns such as time-sensitive issues on files and troubleshooting automated underwriting and complex debt ratio calculations, as well as recognize when a small issue can turn into a large one and start the process to implement system-wide change when necessary.

“I simply cannot say enough good things about Jemma Pachiano. Her passion, expertise and commitment to service are second to none, and I speak for everyone at Mid America when I say that we couldn’t think of a more deserving team member for this particular recognition,” said Mid America Owner and Chief Executive Officer Jeff Bode.
