The packs were created by Special D Events to offer employers a way to ease their employees' transition back to work, provide necessary PPE, show appreciation and boost productivity.

“These packs offer one-stop shopping for employers who want to welcome staff back into their physical workspaces,” says Carol Galle, president and CEO at Special D Events. “They make it easy to take care of their employees and take care of business at the same time.”

The standard Back to Work Pack includes:

- 4 oz. hand sanitizer

- Phone sanitizer
- Reusable face mask
- Antimicrobial door opener
- Webcam covers
- A week's worth of healthy snacks
