

NEXT Wins PROGRESS in Lending Innovations Award

EDMOND, Okla., March 29, 2019 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – NEXT Mortgage Events LLC, creator of the NEXT women's mortgage tech summit, has announced that it was named a winner of the Innovations Award from PROGRESS in Lending Association.

Send2Press® Newswire

PROGRESS in Lending named the Innovations award winners at its ninth annual namesake event. Winners were selected based on the innovation's overall industry significance, the originality of the innovation, the positive change the innovation made possible, the intangible efficiencies gained as a result of the innovation, and the hard cost and time savings that the innovation enables industry participants to achieve. All applications were scored on a weighted scale.

NEXT, the mortgage industry's only technology-centric summit for women executives, was selected for this award based on several unique contributions to the mortgage space:

- NEXT expands the industry-wide visibility allotted to accomplished women mortgage executives
- NEXT is the only open event that provides competitive intel directly from executives currently employed at mortgage lending institutions
- NEXT's effective networking environment has yielded millions of dollars in technology sales, partnerships, and promotions in just over one year.

NEXT is a biannual technology summit for senior executives in mortgage lending. It features lender-centric educational content, technology showcases and meetings, and numerous networking events. Pre-registration for the August 2019 event is currently open to NEXT VIPs. Registration will open to the general public in April.

About NEXT Mortgage Events LLC:

In January 2018, NEXT Mortgage Events broke the mortgage industry's unspoken barriers that limit women's access to competitive intel and networking-based information exchange, when it introduced NEXT, the mortgage technology summit for women. NEXT is a two-day, tech-focused symposium based on lenders sharing competitive intel with other lending executives.

A boutique gathering, each NEXT event is limited to 200 attendees, and targets a select group of decision-making executives. Roughly 85-90 percent of lender attendees hold a title of VP or higher and approximately 85 percent of attendees are women. NEXT is held twice a year, in winter and summer.

For more information:

Visit <https://www.nextmortgageconference.com/> – or follow @NEXTmtgEvents or email info@NEXTmortgageEvents.com.