

'Nonprofit Enrichment Series' Webcasts Focus on Financial Management for Nonprofit Organizations

SEATTLE, Wash., March 4, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Nonprofit fund accounting and software specialist, Vicki Welter, CPA is offering a free monthly online program, the Nonprofit Enrichment Series. The Nonprofit Enrichment Series covers a variety of financial management topics for nonprofit organizations.

"The Nonprofit Enrichment Series is designed for Finance Directors, Accountants, Executive Directors, and Board members of nonprofits who wish to gain a better understanding of the operational best practices around the financial management of their organization," says Vicki Welter, CPA.

The sessions are free and open to any nonprofit or to CPAs specializing in assisting nonprofits. CPE credit is available.

Upcoming sessions include:

- * Have You Outgrown Your Accounting Software?
- * Quarterly Payroll Reconciliation: Key Steps to Ensure W2/W3's are Accurate
- * Getting Ready for the Audit (Parts 1 and 2)
- * Unclaimed Property Requirement and Solutions
- * Establishing the Control Environment and Documenting Internal Controls
- * Board Member Responsibility
- * Internal Management Reporting Best Practices
- * Outsourcing or Shared Services: An Option Every Nonprofit Should Consider.

A complete listing of sessions and registration for the Nonprofit Enrichment Series can be found at <http://welter-consulting.com/enrichment/>.

"There's no escaping the increasing demand for transparency of nonprofit organizations from a variety of constituents," notes Welter. "It all begins with a sound accounting system that allows for reporting by fund, program, and grant or contract, eliminating manual steps from the process. The Nonprofit Enrichment Series is designed to help organizations put best practices in place to ensure optimal financial management."
