

Ohio Aesthetic Center Now Sports Latest in Tattoo Revisions

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 29, 2016 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Rejuvatek Medical, Inc., Sandy, Utah, announced the opening of their latest Tatt2Away® center in Cincinnati, Ohio at Cincinnati Aesthetics. Rejuvatek Medical offers a patented, innovative alternative to laser tattoo removal that is less painful, less costly, and more effective at removing all tattoo colors of pigment.

Dr. Erdeger, MD, opened his aesthetic medicine practice to allow him to maintain ongoing relationships with patients, which he finds gratifying. As a board-certified doctor, he offers approved weight-loss medications, HCG diet programs, and other procedures that make his patients feel better, including tattoo removal. His extensive training and experience enables him to tailor services and treatments with a more specialized and whole-body approach.

Dr. Erdeger practiced as internist/hospitalist at Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati for three years prior to launching Cincinnati Aesthetics. He has increasingly focused on non-surgical aesthetic medicine. His aesthetic training with some of the world's experts in the field has led him to become one of Cincinnati's top specialists in the field, with accredited membership in the American Academy of Aesthetic Medicine and other national medical societies.

"I really wanted to find an effective way to remove tattoos that was cutting edge technology and served my patients better than existing technology," stated Dr. Erdeger. "I am proud to offer my patients a solution that is less painful, removes all colors and can be completed in a shorter amount of time than traditional methods."

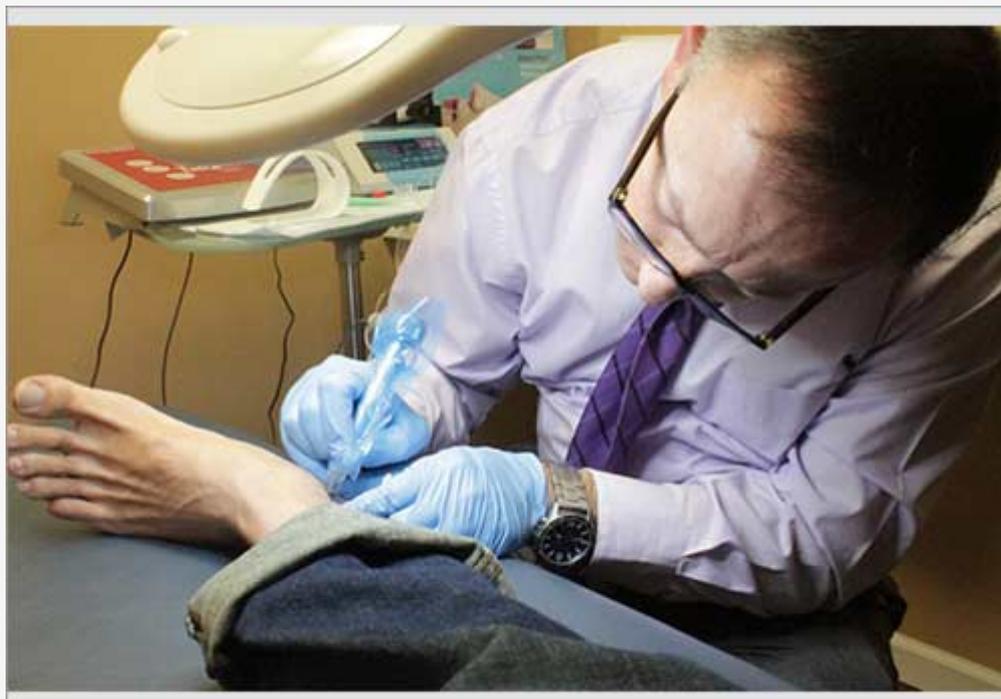

While 65 million Americans sport a tattoo, 11-percent of them are getting one removed. Although the laser has been the go to method of removal, its lack of efficacy, coupled with pain and cost, have not made it an attractive value proposition. Cincinnati Aesthetics plans on providing the newest alternative to laser tattoo removal.

Consumers needing help with tattoo removals can contact Dr. Erdeger at Cincinnati Aesthetics by calling (513) 204-3490.
