As a best-in-class fundraising program currently serving thousands of sports teams and clubs nationwide, PushSave aims to improve communities by enhancing youth sports programs, offering financial perks to fundraiser supporters, and bringing additional business to local merchants through their customizable coupon books. PushSave simplifies the fundraising process for each participant by providing a dedicated campaign manager to set up and oversee each fundraising campaign.

The program can be done entirely from a cell phone, fast-tracking the process for both the campaign participants and their supporters. PushSave’s all-in-one digital coupon book and donation platform eliminates the extra work typical with traditional fundraising.

“This partnership represents a mutual commitment to enhancing the sports of youth baseball and softball, and we’re excited to offer the benefits to our members and volunteers,” said Steven M. Tellefsen, President and CEO of Babe Ruth League. “When it comes to raising funds, we feel that PushSave is unmatched in terms of simplicity and effectiveness.”
