

Quandis Celebrates its Tenth Anniversary in Business

FOOTHILL RANCH, Calif., July 26, 2013 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Quandis, Inc., a leading provider of default management technology solutions, announced its tenth anniversary of being in business in the mortgage industry. Quandis was founded in June of 2003 with the mission of engineering innovative software applications for a variety of organizations in the default servicing space.

“Quandis was established because we saw an opportunity to deliver leading-edge software solutions that help companies automate complex, problematic business processes in default servicing,” said Scott Stoddard, CEO of Quandis. “So many of the technology applications that are commercially available in the mortgage industry today are either antiquated or fall short of resolving pain points. At the end of the day, our success is predicated on the commitment and drive of our employees coupled with advanced, contemporary technology.”

Quandis caters to servicers, default attorneys, lenders, banks, GSEs, outsourced service providers, agents, and other members of the default supply chain.
