

Rare 9/11 Silver Eagle Coins from Ground Zero Available Now

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 11, 2012 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – The U.S. Gold Bureau announced today the general availability of Silver Eagle Coins recovered from several bank vaults below the World Trade Center. These coins were removed from the rubble following the September 11 terrorist attacks in 2001.

“This is an amazing opportunity for any coin collector or precious metals investor to own a piece of American History,” said John Hutmacher, President of U.S. Gold Bureau. “They are extremely affordable and can be a great investment. Rarely do we have coins with so much historical and emotional symbolism.”

The Silver American Eagle is the official silver bullion coin of the United States. It was first released by the United States Mint on November 24, 1986. Its content, weight, and purity are guaranteed by the United States Mint. The Silver Eagle has been produced at three mints: the Philadelphia Mint, the San Francisco Mint, and the West Point Mint.

The coins have all been certified as authentic and are now available to the general public and private investors alike. Offered at $319, every coin purchased will come with a copy of “America’s Heroes: Stories from Today’s Armed Forces” and a portion of proceeds will be donated to the WTC National Memorial and Museum. Interested collectors can purchase through the U.S. Gold Bureau’s public store at www.usgoldbureau.com/store or by calling (512) 623-7797.
