Have equipment to haul from one location to another?

Need to remove heavy objects from construction projects?

Our fleet and service are available for rental to haul heavy equipment. We've had experience in the construction industry for over 30 years, including working with contractors, government agencies, developers, corporations, and individuals. We're licensed and insured to provide heavy equipment rental in Baltimore, Maryland, Washington D.C. and Northern Virginia areas.

The Benefits of Renting a Flatbed for Heavy Equipment Moves

One of the main reasons behind renting a flatbed truck is to help make it possible to haul heavy materials and construction equipment from one location to another.

- Save time and money – rather than buying new or used equipment, maintaining it, and paying for storing the equipment, renting from ReAgg solves these issues
- Short term projects – instead of buying equipment for short-term projects, renting makes more sense to avoid payments
- Expert advice and service – All of ReAgg’s team are experts, experienced and dependable to help answer any questions or provide help with your project
- Name you can trust – ReAgg has worked with customers for over 30 years. We’re licensed and committed to providing you with high quality services and on-time delivery

ReAgg’s Flatbed Truck Rentals:

- Modern fleet of flatbed rentals available
- Eliminate costly equipment purchases through renting
- Large fleet of name brand flatbeds
- Professional and well-trained drivers
- Cutting edge GPS tracking system
- On-time delivery
