

ReverseVision Named to HousingWire's HW TECH100

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 19, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – ReverseVision (<http://reversevision.com/>), the leading software and technology provider for the reverse mortgage industry, announced it has been included in the 2015 edition of HousingWire's HW TECH100™ list.

The HW TECH100™ highlights the housing economy's 100 most innovative technology companies, along six unique dimensions of innovation. The annual awards program is the only program of its kind to include technology serving both the U.S. residential real estate and U.S. residential mortgage industries.

"As the only reverse mortgage LOS on the HW TECH100, we are deeply grateful to the staff at HousingWire for recognizing the role ReverseVision has played in the mortgage industry," said John Button, president and CEO of ReverseVision. "RV Exchange is the heartbeat of the reverse mortgage market and continues to lead the industry in terms of both innovation and compliance."

"Technology is changing both the mortgage and real estate industries in tangible and positive ways," said Paul Jackson, publisher and CEO of HousingWire. "The honorees that are part of the 2015 HW TECH100 are shaping this revolution, helping forge the future of an industry that drives the U.S. economic engine."

"This year we were struck by the level of innovation we saw, with 40 new additions to the HW TECH100," said Jacob Gaffney, HousingWire's executive editor. "That speaks to how much change is taking place in the mortgage industry overall right now; we're seeing a lot of market disruption, and technology providers are clearly taking advantage of the opportunity that creates."
