

ReverseVision Named to HousingWire's HW TECH100 for Second Time

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 2, 2017 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – ReverseVision, the leading provider of software and technology for the reverse mortgage industry, today announced it has been named to HousingWire's HW TECH100™ list of the housing economy's most innovative technology companies for a second time. Previously recognized in 2015, ReverseVision is the only reverse mortgage loan origination software (LOS) provider to be selected for the prestigious award.

Send2Press® Newswire

HousingWire introduced its TECH100 program in 2014 to recognize the increasingly influential role of technology companies serving the mortgage space. Chosen by HousingWire's editorial staff, winners of the award must demonstrate market influence across six discrete dimensions. Every year has seen an increase not only in the number of companies who apply for the award, but also the breadth of their innovation.

ReverseVision was recognized for its flagship RV Exchange (RVX) LOS, the only reverse mortgage software that connects users across the entire industry. From loan origination to ordering services and from documents to closing, the end-to-end loan process can be done without ever stepping outside the software.

"HousingWire's Tech100 program is widely recognized as a 'who's who' of mortgage technology innovators, and we are honored to make the list for a second time,” said John Button, president and CEO of ReverseVision. “ReverseVision is proud to support our lenders and brokers as the industry’s source of reverse mortgage innovation in technology, education and thought leadership.”

“The companies that make up the 2017 HW TECH100™ are the cream of the crop of the entire housing industry, from real estate to mortgage lending, servicing and investment,” said HousingWire Senior Financial Reporter Ben Lane. “These companies aren’t just taking part in the housing industry’s technological revolution; they’re leading it.”
