

ReverseVision's Jason Price Honored with HousingWire Insiders Award

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 1, 2017 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – ReverseVision, the leading provider of software and technology for the reverse mortgage industry, today announced that Product Manager Jason Price has been named to HousingWire's 2017 "Insiders Award" list.

Price was recognized for his contributions to ReverseVision's overall product enhancements and success, including the development of new calculators within RV Sales Accelerator (RVSA), the firm's web-based sales tool specifically designed to assist loan officers with increasing reverse mortgage applications and closing more loans. RVSA's calculators provide lenders the ability to model Home Equity Conversion Mortgages (HECMs) in conjunction with a borrower's retirement portfolio so they may visually understand how it will impact their financial resources over time. Price also contributed to several critical updates to RV Exchange (RVX), ReverseVision's flagship loan origination software. These updates have led to increased efficiency and stability within the product.

Before assuming his current role, Price served as ReverseVision's customer support manager for two years. During that time, he managed the day-to-day operations of a support staff and worked with ReverseVision customers to resolve technical issues and business concerns. He also oversaw the company's transition to the ZenDesk ticketing system, led renovations to the online support portal and merged three separate knowledge base systems into a single system which led to integrated ticketing, increased response times and more self-assisted support for users.

Price is Six Sigma Green Belt certified. He joined ReverseVision with more than 14 years of IT/software support experience at such leading firms as NextWave Broadband and Adobe Systems.

“Jason’s strategic thinking, broad problem-solving skillset and passion for client service have helped secure ReverseVision’s place as the undisputed leader in reverse mortgage technology,” said ReverseVision President and CEO, John Button. “Perhaps more importantly, he has a deep understanding of the industry and clients he serves. His innovative contributions to ReverseVision product development are helping shape the industry’s future.”

“The scale of our Insiders Award this year is impressive in both its breadth and depth,” said Jacob Gaffney, HousingWire editor-in-chief. “The talent on display here is unmistakable, and the scope of the work our winners do day-in and day-out is a testament to their accomplishments. It’s an honor for HousingWire to publish this award.”

Now in its second year, HousingWire’s Insiders Award program was created to celebrate the “unsung heroes” behind the industry’s most successful organizations. For a full list of honorees, visit <https://www.housingwire.com/articles/41179-hw-insiders-2017>.
