

‘Rivals any fiction story today’ –
High praise for Christopher LaGrone’s
‘The Delta Tango Trilogy’ one-of-a-kind Border Patrol series from Morgan
James Publishing

NEW YORK, N.Y., Jan. 12, 2021 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Clive Cussler, two months before he died, said of Layne Sheppard, protagonist in Christopher LaGrone’s dynamic U.S. Border Patrol novels that comprise the new Delta Tango Trilogy from Morgan James Publishing: “His life of trials and sorrows rivals any fiction story today.” Book One: “Fleeing The Past” is available now in bookstores everywhere and online.

Send2Press® Newswire

For the story behind these books as related in the “From Tragedy To Trilogy” video, go to: <https://youtu.be/SZVSLJP6sdY>.

For more information about The Delta Tango Trilogy, visit

<https://deltatangotrilogy.com/>.

Such high praise from one of the most successful adventure authors of all time is impressive – even more so considering that Cussler was commenting on debut work.

Once a Border Patrol agent himself, LaGrone draws on his own experiences as a recruit, field trainee and border agent to create what Margaret Coel, New York Times best-selling author of “Winter’s Child” and more than two dozen other novels and non-fiction books, calls “a heartbreakingly honest tale of the lives that intersect and are forever changed along our bleak and dangerous southern border.”

The Delta Tango Trilogy is unlike any previously published immigration-themed novel, in that it looks at border enforcement from the perspective of the line agent, beginning with the arduous training would-be agents must survive. The Trilogy captures the desperation that drives undocumented immigrants to risk their lives wandering in the desert, while also documenting the mixed emotions experienced by those who are tasked with apprehending them.

“These are important novels, not to be missed or forgotten,” Margaret Coel added.

In “Fleeing The Past” LaGrone provides readers with an intimate look at the rigorous training Border Patrol recruits must complete just to advance to field trainee status, and introduces Felina Camarena Rivera, one of those so-called “Dreamers,” who aspires to become a doctor—if only she can become a U.S. citizen. As Sheppard strives to overcome his own checkered past by becoming a border agent, he falls in love with the very type of person he is training to apprehend.

Succeeding books follow Sheppard through the dangers, boredom and contradictions of field work and the intrigue of Patrol politics, as well as what Clive Cussler termed the “personal problems and challenges” that revolve around his conflicted relationship with Felina, who desperately pursues her dream.

Book 2: “Felina’s Spell,” and Book 3: “Moments of Truth” will be released at intervals later in 2021.

About Morgan James Publishing:

Morgan James publishes trade quality titles designed to educate, encourage, inspire, or entertain readers with current, consistent, relevant topics that are available everywhere books are sold. For more information, go to: <http://www.morganjamespublishing.com/>.

More About This Title:

“Fleeing the Past: The Delta Tango Trilogy – Book One,” by Christopher LaGrone, published by Morgan James Publishing, has a release date of January 12, 2021. “Fleeing the Past” – ISBN 978-1631950773 – has 274 pages and is being sold as a trade paperback for $16.95.

About the Author:

A native Coloradan, Christopher LaGrone pursued his goal of becoming a published author after service as a U.S. Border Patrol Agent in southern Arizona, the setting for The Delta Tango Trilogy. Christopher died unexpectedly of natural causes at age 41 in 2018. His mother, Sherryl LaGrone, is fulfilling her son's dream by publishing his books.

For more information about The Delta Tango Trilogy, visit <https://deltatangotriology.com/>.

MEDIA CONTACT:

Nickcole Watkins
Morgan James Publishing
516.900.5674
Nickcole@morganjamespublishing.com

*IMAGE Link for media:

<https://www.Send2Press.com/300dpi/21-0112s2p-fleeing-the-past-300dpi.jpg>

*Caption: Cover, "Fleeing the Past: The Delta Tango Trilogy – Book One," by Christopher LaGrone, published by Morgan James Publishing.