

Simplifile Recognized as HW Tech100 Winner for Fourth Consecutive Year

PROVO, Utah, April 2, 2019 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Simplifile, a leading provider of real estate document collaboration and recording technologies for lenders, settlement agents, and counties, announced that it has been included on the sixth annual HW Tech100™ list published by housing and mortgage industry trade magazine HousingWire.

Send2Press® Newswire

This year marks the fourth consecutive year Simplifile has made the Tech100 list, which recognizes technology companies from all sectors of the U.S. housing economy that “continue to push the edge of innovation to move markets forward.”

“These companies hold the most innovative and impactful technology in mortgage finance and continue to move markets forward with their new innovations,” HousingWire Associate Editor Kelsey Ramírez said. “The future is bright for the mortgage industry, and it’s because these companies continue to push the edge of what is possible.”

In its profile on Simplifile in the April issue, HousingWire focused on Simplifile’s e-recording adoption growth in 2018. Last year, the company achieved 50 percent market penetration in terms of total U.S. recording jurisdictions e-recording through Simplifile. In addition, the magazine also highlighted Simplifile's digital mortgage efforts through its integration with Docutech, as well as the benefits lenders and settlement agents continue to experience through its Collaboration and Post Closing tools.

"Technology continues to push the boundaries of what is possible in today's mortgage market, and Simplifile is proud to be included amongst this elite group of vendors that are working each and every day to make an end-to-end digital real estate transaction a reality," Simplifile President Paul Clifford said. "On behalf of the entire Simplifile team, I want to thank the editorial staff at HousingWire for this tremendous honor."
