

Southern Trial Lawyers Association Publish Article by Attorneys Bernard Walsh and Elisabeth DeWitt

BRADENTON, Fla., Jan. 28, 2016 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – An article entitled “Modern Spinal Surgery Options” by Injury Attorney Bernard F. Walsh, managing partner of Shapiro Goldman Babboni and Walsh, and Attorney Elisabeth DeWitt formerly of the Bradenton Florida office of Shapiro Goldman Babboni & Walsh, has been published by the Southern Trial Lawyers Association.

In the article, Attorney Bernard Walsh highlights the importance of attorneys being aware of the latest medical care techniques available, and continues that attorneys should make sure that their clients are aware of these options and discuss them with their medical professional.

The article states, “You must be prepared to educate your clients on the available options and approaches to surgical care so that your client can do their own research and speak to their treating surgeons more effectively...” and continues to advise attorneys to become familiar with the surgeons that perform the relevant procedures, in their local area.

The article which focuses on new techniques for spinal surgery, outlines several new surgical procedures that many attorneys representing injured clients may not be aware of such as, facet rhizotomy, endoscopic spinal surgery and robotic spine surgery.

Attorney Bernard Walsh had this to say about being published in JUSTLAW, “The Southern Trial Lawyers is a great organization that works to strengthen connections and awareness for plaintiff’s attorneys. The ultimate goal of everyone involved with the Southern Trial Lawyers, is to better serve our clients in achieving justice. JUSTLAW helps members stay informed by sharing in the knowledge and experience of other attorneys, and I am honored that JUSTLAW selected the article by Attorney DeWitt and I to be published.”

“Modern Spinal Surgery Options” was published in volume 8, issue 1 of JUSTLAW by the Southern Trial Lawyers Association in January, 2016.
