It makes for a meaningful piece full of Chris’s spirit, ideal for any collector of Americana, patriot, baseball fan or those touched by American Sniper and our story.”

Dirty South Bats CEO Tony Mastandrea, said, “Dirty South Bats is honored to be partnering with the Chris Kyle Frog Foundation and their worthy cause of restoring military families and keeping families together. To pair an American-hero with an American-made top performing baseball bat for Americas past-time sport is truly humbling. The look we get from the kids who see and use the bat for the first time is absolutely priceless.”

Kyle added, “Our relationship with Dirty South Bats will go a long way in helping our Foundation connect with even more service couples. We help veteran and first responder families by committing to be with them through two years unique programming. The gift of a safe place at home helps the whole family survive and thrive. Dirty South Bats are American to the core! These badass bats are even made right here in the USA! So many give their lives to serve us – be a part of hitting home runs for them by helping us save their family – one badass Dirty South Bat at a time!”

Mastandrea further stated, “Dirty South has such a loyal, grass-roots and organic customer following that we have no doubt they will come-out in droves to support this worthy endeavor. Our customers have supported so many other worthy charitable causes in the past and this will be no exception.”
