

Top Cities Holiday Attractions Guide – TripIndicator combines all the travel information needed to plan the perfect trip

CARLUKE, Lanarkshire, UK, March 31, 2014 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Property Dimensions Service Ltd have announced the launch of TripIndicator (www.tripindicator.com), a fantastic new website which puts all the information needed to plan a perfect holiday in one place. Included are a wealth of travel guides which cover a massive range of cities. These tourist city guides contain everything the traveller might need to know about each destination, particularly its top tourist attractions.

Each city has its own page with a breakdown of all the most popular spots and day trips. For example, the page on Rome has articles on the Colosseum, the Pantheon, the Trevi Fountain, the Sistine Chapel, St Peter's Basilica and many more besides. For each attraction there is a summary of what you can see, alongside transport options, nearby hotels and restaurants, other nearby attractions, prices and opening times, pictures, website and video links and any applicable discount cards. It couldn't be easier to make every day of a holiday a memorable and inexpensive experience, as everything can be planned well in advance. For those days when a break from sightseeing is needed, there is also information on all the best value options for shopping, nightlife or just to relax.

The overall aim is to ensure users have the perfect trip with no stress or complications. To achieve this, the site's creators have talked directly to travellers including singles, couples and families, using surveys conducted after they went on holiday, to find out exactly what they want to see in a travel site. Thanks to this level of feedback and research, TripIndicator is essentially a one-stop-shop for holidaymakers. The site is extremely easy to navigate without getting confused with lots of different links to other websites. This intuitive and elegant design, combined with an attractive layout, makes TripIndicator a pleasure to use.

The site goes to great lengths to ensure travellers can save time and money. For example, there are direct links to online booking for many attractions, which often also prevents the need to stand in line. These outside links are only provided where it goes towards improving the holiday experience. There is also a page devoted to useful travel tips, all designed to make things even easier; these cover such topics as vaccinations, budgeting, travelling with children, learning the local language, security concerns, and car hire.

TripIndicator is in a constant state of development and improvement, with more cities being added constantly from around the globe, including those less-visited destinations alongside the main tourist draws. Going off the beaten track often yields fabulous results for a less stressful trip, and the site's authors are keen to promote less well known cities. Research is always ongoing into even better ways to present information.
