

Valiant Horizon Music Label Announces a New Single from American EDM Artist Terry Sartor Produced by German DJ and Electronic Musician Jerome Klark

ATLANTA, Ga., June 19, 2014 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Valiant Horizon announces the forthcoming single from Valiant Artist Terry Sartor entitled “Ready” – which was produced by up-and-coming German electronic musician Jerome Klark of the dance music unit M.I.T. The song is the first time that Sartor and Klark have worked together. “Ready” is a striking EDM track obviously influenced by the dubstep genre. It showcases Sartor’s vocals and ideas front and center powered by Klark’s suave production work. Working together on the single, the two combined their synergies and unique talents to produce an exciting EDM anthem.

“Ready” is the second single from Terry Sartor. As the follow-up to his first single “Industry”, “Ready” is an interesting departure from his deep techno sound.

“I feel that it is important to continue expanding your sound and challenging musical styles while working with other artists who share your vision,” states Sartor on his latest music turn. Although entrenched in dubstep, “Ready” pulls from other facets in the EDM space that do resonate and nicely complement Sartor’s music style over the years. Working with the very talented Klark, Sartor was able to take his sound to a new and exciting level that is nice direction for his musical career. The lyrics aim to inspire listeners to not only get “Ready” for some serious dance grooves but also get “Ready” to take their goals and aspirations higher.

The “Ready” single was released on June 17, 2014 via Valiant Horizon. Get “Ready” for it.
