The introduction of TeamSnap Assignments makes it easier than ever to manage the volunteers and tasks that go along with any team. Assign and track who's bringing post-game refreshments, who's on field clean-up duty, who's supposed to pick up whom, who's collecting waivers or anything else you can think of. Unlike other sign up software programs, TeamSnap also allows you to communicate and manage your roster, schedule and volunteers from the same flexible, easy-to-use app. TeamSnap Assignments allows coaches and managers to share the work with volunteers and allows volunteers to easily sign up to help out.

"At TeamSnap, we know it takes a squad to manage your squad ... or team or group or troupe," said Andrew Berkowitz, TeamSnap co-founder and chief creative officer. "We've heard your requests for a simpler way to manage the all-important volunteers and tasks that help keep your team running, and we're thrilled to bring powerful and flexible Assignments to our customers."

Coaches, administrators, players and parents use TeamSnap to make organizing any sport or activity as simple as click, tap and go. Twelve million people use the sports team management app in 196 countries, and thousands more are joining daily. In addition to individual teams and groups, more clubs, leagues and athletic programs are turning to TeamSnap every day for top-notch league and club management software. TeamSnap's club and league management software includes professional website development, online registration, effective communication tools, scheduling assistance and general management that saves time and sanity.
