

YUNG Citizen Champions Message of Injustice and Inequality With Latest Song and Music Video, 'Brown Butta'

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Dec. 17, 2020 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Citizen Music Group wants you to know and follow Christopher “YUNG Citizen” Williams, Charlotte (N.C.) native, and you will discover someone deeply passionate and committed to raising awareness to the injustices and social inequities that exist in society today. Spending time with him clearly reveals his beliefs. As a Hip Hop artist and producer, his music became the next form of expression and logical platform to share his message with a larger audience. FOLLOW HIM!

“Brown Butta” is YUNG’s latest visual creation intended to raise awareness to the issues of today (police brutality, racial discrimination, income inequality, disadvantaged youth, etc.) while displaying black and brown images of beauty, confidence, righteousness and love of community.

Make no mistake about it, “love of self and genuine respect and concern for others will always be part of what defines me,” says YUNG.

Featured on the track and video is Jason Jet, another talented Charlotte artist. His smooth and soulful rendering on the hook is a powerful compliment to YUNG Citizen’s poignant verses; both are guaranteed to forever be etched in your inner most consciousness after the first encounter.

YUNG advises, “‘Brown Butta’ will join his list of trademark creations guaranteed to inspire and motivate people to remain present in the moment and vigilant toward peaceful and meaningful change.”

ABOUT YUNG Citizen

YUNG’s lyrical genius will always find him behind his mandate of inspiring and motivating people to aspire to new heights that have no limits; and to never stop chasing their dreams. YUNG Citizen’s ultimate goal is to create music that challenges the social conscious of the nation to acknowledge these issues do exist and work toward positive and lasting change.
